Foundations of mentally healthy workplaces

Protect

Identify and manage work-related risks to mental health.

Promote

Recognise and enhance the positive aspects of work that contribute to good mental health.

Respond

Build capability to identify and respond to support people experiencing mental ill-health or distress.

* These pillars overlap, with action in one of these areas often leading to improvements in others.